The Royal Society of NSW Discipline Awards recognise distinguished research in an array of disciplines and fields and that has been conducted mainly in New South Wales. They are made in a three-yearly cycle, Years A, B and C, with Year A Awards commencing in 2023, Year B in 2024 and Year C in 2025.

Where appropriate, Discipline Awards may recognise teams as well as individuals. Nominators are welcome to consult the Society for guidance before making a team nomination, noting that for a medal, only one physical medal is presented.

For Awards without Lectureships, winners are invited to submit a review or other article about their work to the Society's Journal. For awards with lectures, winners are expected to submit a copy of their lecture to the journal.

Nominations for all available Awards open on 1 July each year and close on 30 September. Awardees are announced by the end of that calendar year with formal presentations of their Awards in the following year. All nominations require a nominator and a seconder who need not be Members of the Society. Recipients may be resident in Australia or elsewhere and shall not have won a previous RSNSW Discipline Award for their work in the same discipline. All Awards are assessed relative to opportunity.

Each nomination must comply with the conditions of award and will consist of a completed nomination form together with supporting documentation as specified on the form.

To submit a Nomination, please add a 100 word summary, the required curriculum vitae, and two letters of nomination and support (each of not more than 2 pages). Please combine the components into a single PDF and email to awards-nominations@royalsoc.org.au by 30th September in the year of nomination.
